Backup Plan

All files that are worked on will be backed up and saved on the hard drives of the designer, developer, and project manager at the end of every lab day. The designer and developer will transfer the backed up files to the project manager's external hard drive.

If any outside work is nescessary, files that are worked on will be saved and emailed to the project manager.